Shobhana Radhakrishna

Societal Transformation through education

- M. K. Gandhi's ideals as Motivation for today in Research and teaching -

Shobhana Radhakrishna grew up in Mahatma Gandhi's Sevagram in Wardha/ India. Her cherished aim is to reintroduce Mahatma Gandhi through lectures to the people in India as well those abroad.

Mahatma Gandhi's thought and principles can guide the people as it has the strength to inspire and bring about change. Her lectures highlight the relevance of ethics and values, with Mahatma Gandhi serving as the role model for transformational leadership and sustainable development.

Shobhana Rashakrishna has given 49 lectures in Japan, South Africa, Sri Lanka, Tunisia, Thailand, Indonesia, China and Singapore and 248 lectures in all major public sector enterprises, universities and business schools. She is the Chief Functionary of the „Gandhian Forum for Ethical Corporate Governance“ formed by the Standing Conference of Public Enterprises (SCOPE) for promoting ethical business practices, organizational integrity and social responsibility in public and private sectors.
